

11-12 November, 2014, 1:00 pm

Venue: University of Sussex Conference Centre, Brighton

For more information and details for registering, please visit:

www.centreforbionetworking.org

Global life Sciences and Bionetworking -- Cell Therapy Production, Provision and Policies

What is there between bona fide and rogue stem cell therapy?

Keynote Speakers:

Aditya Bharadwaj, Research Professor, Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, Geneva, and author, Local Cells, Global Science

Insoo Hyun, Associate Professor, Case Western Reserve University, USA, and former leader in creation of ISSCR regulation

Plenary Panel: Standard setting, regulation and the authorisation of stem cell therapy provision

Speakers: Paolo Bianco, critic of (MSC) therapy providers, University of Rome,

Willem Fibbe, Head, Department of Immunotherapy and Blood Transfusion,

Hongyun Huang, provider and application of cell therapy, Center of Neurorestoratology, Beijing Rehabilitation Hospital of Capital Medical University, China

Kamthorn Pruksananonda, Associate Professor of OB&GYN, Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok

Alok Sharma, Director, NeuroGen Brain and Spine Institute, Mumbai

Geeta Shroff, provider of embryonic stem cell therapy, Nutech Mediworld

Panel 1: Resistance and alter-standardization in emerging medicine research: the role of global asymmetries

Panel 2: Medical and wellness tourism: bionetworking across boundaries

Panel 3: Cord Blood Banking and Bionetworking: Different stakes in different countries

Panel 4: International Life Science Platforms and Bionetworking – Putting back the people in the platform

Panel 5: How Ethics and Religion Shape Stem Cell Research

Organised by the Centre for Bionetworking, University of Sussex

REGISTRATION: <http://www.eventbrite.co.uk/o/centre-for-bionetworking-6912451807?s=27295513>

